Maribeth Yoder-White Teacher Training Workshop

Come explore the many ways we actively engage students in music-making! This workshop will include hands-on activities immediately applicable for use in K-5 music classrooms. We'll experience ways to authentically develop musical and non-musical skills and understandings, including ways to enhance musical and linguistic literacy. Content will include folksongs, children's books, poetry, games, chants, and much more. Participants will receive detailed workshop notes with resources and teaching processes. Be prepared to work in community as we move, sing, create, and play together!

BIO: A choral and general music education specialist, she previously taught fulltime at ASU, where she served as Coordinator of Music Education. Prior to joining the ASU faculty, Yoder-White taught at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro School of Music, where she conducted the Women's Glee Club, taught graduate and undergraduate music education courses, and supervised student teachers.
